Epicor provides industry-specific business software solutions to thousands of companies around the world. The next-generation business software solutions from Epicor support manufacturers, distributors, retailers, and professional service organizations worldwide.

The Workshop

ERP software has been deployed for concrete manufacturers around the world but how do you know if the solution deployed brings you value for money, ensures compliance with reporting procedures and at the same time meet international standards? What are the different aspects of ERP for the concrete industry and how can it help run your organisation in a more productive and cost efficient manner?

In this half day workshop, we will feature how Epicor's ERP can provide the concrete industry with seamless control over their production and business processes. We will also present live examples on the benefits of deploying an ERP strategy and how the solution can help enhance improvements in plant efficiency and strict requirements for environment protection measures by providing real time and transparent data availability throughout the entire production chain.
