

Understanding Towards Producing Consistent Quality Concrete

Mr. Lim Pock Gim

Mr. Lim Pock Gin is the Director & Technical Manager of BS Testing Laboratory (SEL) Sdn Bhd. Mr. Lim worked in ready mix concrete industry for 26 years. During his past 26 years of working experiences in reputable ready-mixed concrete companies, He have been exposed to Quality Control, Quality Assurance, Technical, Production and Sales & Marketing departments which gives him a great opportunities and experiences of dealing with all level of staffs, clients and local/oversea consultants. Mr. Lim worked with one of the pioneers ready mixed concrete company in Jakarta Indonesia as a General Manager from 2014 till 2018.

Mr. Lim was actively involved in several mega projects such as KL Sentral station, PTP Port extension, One KL Hotel and Existing Penang Bridge Widening. His expertise is to design high performance concrete such as high strength concrete, concrete slump retention more than 3 hours, extra ordinary high early strength of more than 20Mpa at 12 hours, low heat concrete for the raft foundation, process improvement, mix design optimization and establish training materials and conduct in house training.

Mr. Lim has presented several papers in the seminar organized by NRMCA, IQM, CIDB, University of Petronas and Association Consulting Engineer Malaysia (ACEM) Sabah. Mr. Lim graduated his first degree in Mechanical Engineering with 1st class honor in 1991 from Strathclyde University in United Kingdom. He further obtained his second degree in Bachelor of Art in Business Administration from University of Bolton in United Kingdom in year 2002.

Mr. Lim was the lead trainer for the National Ready-Mixed Concrete Association in Malaysia (NRMCA) in 1999-2001. He also was the in-house trainer for his previous company in 1997 to 2001.